CHRSP Question Submission Form
Please refer to the document "What Makes a Good Question for CHRSP?" for guidance in formulating questions.

Topic/Question (approx. 40 words)
What is the difference in utility, scope, cost effectiveness and health outcomes for emergent and elective patients using hyperbaric oxygen therapy vs. conventional therapy for wound care, carbon monoxide poisoning and smoke inhalation?

Short description of the issue/topic (max. 100 words)
Recently a hyperbaric oxygen chamber was transferred from Memorial University to Eastern Health. We need to determine the accepted indications for its use.

Population affected (e.g., specific patient/population group, regional health authority, entire province)
Emergent and elective patients requiring hyperbaric oxygen therapy

Why is the issue important? (max. 80 words)
There has been increasing activity in the province's oil and gas industry which may increase the demand for this service. As well, there has been recent public discussion of its availability and use.

How does the question relate to your organization's and/or the provincial health system's strategic plans? (max. 80 words)
We need to ensure that this technology is used in instances where its effectiveness and safety has been demonstrated furthering Eastern Health's accountability and safety objectives.

Timeline
It would be helpful to know the answer by this date: 12 months
