

Memorial University of Newfoundland

VISITING LEADER AWARD IN RURAL MEDICINE AND HEALTH

DR. STEVE J. REID,
BSc(Med), MBChB, MFamMed, PhD
*Director and Glaxo-Wellcome Chair of Primary Health Care
University of Cape Town*

Dr. Reid developed the first rural training programme for doctors in South Africa based at McCord Hospital in Durban. He helped found the Rural Doctors' Association of Southern Africa and established the Centre for Rural Health at the University of KwaZulu-Natal. He is a consultant to the Western Cape Provincial Department of Health on primary health care.

On the lighter side, he plays the fiddle and hopes to engage with the extraordinary music of Newfoundland and Labrador.

ABOUT THE AWARD

PRIMARY AIM: to enable the recipient to learn from and provide advice regarding rural medicine education, rural healthcare, and rural research to identify opportunities for development and improvement to the Memorial University of Newfoundland's Faculty of Medicine

DURATION: Oct. 1 - 31, 2015

MAIN OUTCOME DELIVERABLES. THE RECIPIENT WILL:

- a) Give lectures and participate in workshops and interactive meetings.
- b) Provide a written report to the Dean of Medicine within two months of the visit identifying opportunities for improvements and developments.
- c) Write a journal article with Memorial faculty members as co-authors on an aspect of rural medicine and health submitted within one year of the visit.

If you would like to meet with Dr. Reid,
please contact:

Carol Ann Walker
dean.executiveassistant@med.mun.ca
709 864 6306