CHRSP: Status Update

In early September, NLCAHR launched its next round of topic selection under the Contextualized Health Research Synthesis Program (CHRSP). Our health system partners are now working within their respective organizations to identify priority research topics for the next round of CHRSP studies. In the meantime, CHRSP Research Teams are at work on the following reports:

- Community-Based Service Models for Seniors: The final draft of this report is almost complete. NLCAHR is now working with the Department of Health and Community Services towards a CIHR-funded Best Brains Exchange that will bring decision-makers from the NL health system together with leading Canadian research experts to examine the implications of the study. Our CHRSP Research Team will also present findings from this study that relate to Integrated Care Models for Seniors at PriFor 2013, the Primary Healthcare Partnership Forum, taking place at the Sheraton Hotel in St. John’s on November 25-26, 2013.

- Point-of-Care Testing in the ER: The evidence synthesis for this study is now complete and the first draft of the report is in progress, with an anticipated dissemination later this year.

- Falls Prevention for Seniors in Institutional Health Care Settings in NL: The full research team is now reviewing a first draft of this report which will then be submitted for external review.

Pending Projects: When the projects noted above are completed, CHRSP will commence two new Evidence in Context studies: Strategies for Preventing Type 2 Diabetes and Effective Strategies for Managing Aggression in Patients with Dementia in Long-Term Care Settings. CHRSP will also undertake Rapid Evidence Reports on outpatient programs for patients with chronic disease and on the effectiveness of one-time health promotion initiatives.
